The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 12th March 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

Act No. VII of 1862.

An Act to amend Act XLVI of 1860 (to authorize and regulate the Emigration of Native Laborers to the French Colonies.)

WHEREAS since the passing of Act XLVI of 1860 (to authorize and regulate the Emigration of Native Laborers to the French Colonies) the Convention therein recited between Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and His Majesty the Emperor of the French has been varied in the following particulars: that is to say, by substituting for Article XXVI in the said Convention as so recited in the said Act, the following Article:

ARTICLE XXVI.

The present Convention shall begin to take effect on the 1st of July 1862; its duration is fixed at three years and a half. It shall remain in full force if notice for its termination be not given in the course of the month of July of the third year, and then notice can be given only in the course of the month of July of each succeeding year.

In case of such notice being given it shall cease eighteen months afterwards.

Nevertheless the Governor-General of British India in Council shall, in conformity with the Act of the 19th of September 1856, relative to immigration to British Colonies, have the power to suspend at any time emigration to any one or more of the French Colonies, in the event of his having reason to believe that in any such Colony proper measures have not been taken for the protection of the Emigrants immediately upon their arrival or during their residence therein or for their safe return to India, or to provide a return passage to India for any such Emigrants at or about the time at which they are entitled to such return passage.

In case, however, the power thus reserved to the Governor-General of British India should at any time be exercised, the French Government shall have the right immediately to terminate the whole Convention if they should think proper to do so.

But in the event of the determination of the present Convention, from whatever cause, the stipulations relative to Indian subjects of Her Britannic Majesty introduced into the French Colonies shall be maintained in force in favor of the said Indian subjects until they shall either have been sent back to their own country, or have renounced their right to a return passage to India."

And also by the addition of the two following Articles which were not comprised in the Convention or recited in the said Act, that is to say—

"ARTICLE XXVII.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Paris in four weeks, or sooner if possible.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.

His Majesty the Emperor of the French having stated that, in consequence of the order which he gave long ago that no more African Emigrants should be introduced into the Island of Re-union, that Colony has, since last year, had to obtain laborers from India and China; and Her Britannic Majesty having, by Convention signed on the 25th of July 1860, between Her Majesty and His Majesty the Emperor of the French, authorized the Colony of Re-union to recruit six thousand laborers in Her Indian possessions, it is agreed that the Convention of this date shall take effect forthwith with regard to the said Colony of Re-union.

The present Additional Article shall have the same force and validity as if it were inserted word for word in the Convention signed this day. It shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at the same time as those of the Convention."

And whereas the said Convention, with such alterations and additions as aforesaid, together with such additional Article, has been duly signed, ratified, and confirmed:

It is declared and enacted as follows:—

All the provisions of Act XLVI of 1860 (to authorize and regulate the Emigration of Native Laborers to the French Colonies) shall be signed and ratified, and remain in full force notwithstanding that the Convention therein recited had been so altered and added to before the same was signed or ratified as aforesaid: and all such provisions, in so far as the same relate to the Convention recited in the said Act, shall be deemed to apply and shall apply to the said Convention as signed and ratified as aforesaid together with the additional Article thereof.

II. Except as directed in the last preceding Section, all partitions of estates, which shall be ordered to be made by the Officers of Government after the passing of this Act, shall be made under the provisions of this Act, whatever may be the tenure of the estate ordered to be divided.

III. The following persons are entitled to the partition of estates, paying to Government, under this Act, namely:

Class 1.—Proprietors of estates in which all the sharers have a common right and interest in the whole of the estate, without any separate title to distinct lands forming part of the estate, and the rents of which, by whomsoever paid, are thrown into a common stock with all other profits arising from the estate, and, after deduction of expenses of management and payment of the public revenue assessed upon the estate, the balance is divided amongst the proprietors according to their several shares.

Class 2.—Proprietors of estates, whose interests consist of certain portions of the rents of the estate, and who pay their respective quotas of the public revenue assessed upon the whole estate either jointly or separately to Government.

Class 3.—Proprietors of estates, in which the whole of the lands forming the estate are divided and held in severalty by the different proprietors, but the entire estate is responsible for the amount of the public revenue assessed thereupon.

Class 4.—Proprietors of estates, in which part of the lands forming the estate are held by the proprietors in common, and part in severalty.

Class 5.—Proprietors of estates, in which some portion of the lands forming the estate is held in common, but the proprietors pay their respective quotas of the public revenue assessed upon the entire estate in proportion to their several shares of the estate, under engagements separately taken from them and entered in the Government rent-roll.

Class 6.—Proprietors of specific lands, forming part of an estate, but held in common as a separate property, such lands remaining liable with the body of the estate for the Government revenue assessed thereon.

IV. It shall not be lawful for any one or more of the proprietors of specific lands falling under Class 6 of the last preceding Section to obtain a separation of his or their shares of such lands until, at the instance of the whole of the proprietors thereof, the lands have been separated from the estate and assessed in the manner prescribed by law with their proportion of the public revenue upon the entire estate.

V. If any one or more of the recorded proprietors of a joint undivided estate, whether held in common tenancy or otherwise, who may be entitled to partition under the provisions contained in Section III of this Act, shall desire to have his or their shares of the estate separated, in order that he or they may hold separate possession of the same, such proprietor or proprietors shall make a written application for the purpose to the Collector of the District. Any two or more proprietors may apply to have their shares separated and to hold the same as a joint estate.

VI. The application shall be signed by the party or parties applying for the partition, and shall specify the nature of the tenure of the estate sought to be divided. The names of all the co-sharers in the estate, the nature and extent of their respective shares, so far as the same may be known to the applicant or applicants, or can be ascertained by him or them, and the mode of partition desired shall also be stated. If the application does not contain the particulars abovementioned, the Collector may reject it.

VII. The Collector, on the receipt of an application for partition, shall, if the application be in order and not open to objection on the face of it, publish a Notification of the same at his Office and at some conspicuous place on the estate to which the application relates, and shall invite any party in possession, who may not have joined in the application and who may object to the partition applied for, to appear before him either in person or by a duly constituted Agent, on a day to be specified in the Notification, not being less than fifteen or more than thirty days from the date of the Notification, and state his objection. If the application for partition shall not have been made by all the recorded proprietors of the estate, notice of the application shall be served, in the manner usual in the District for serving notices of the Revenue Officers, on each of the recorded proprietors of the estate who shall not have joined in the application.

VIII. If any objection be made to the partition by any party in possession within the time allowed, and the Collector, on a consideration of such objection, be of opinion that for any cause the partition applied for is not practicable at that particular time, or if, in the opinion of the Collector, there be any good and sufficient reason, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, why the partition should be absolutely disallowed, he may refuse the application recording the grounds of his refusal.

IX. If the objection raise any question of title or of proprietary right, which shall not appear to have been already determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the Collector may either decline to grant the application until the question in dispute shall have been determined by a competent Court, or he may proceed to inquire into the merits of the objection. In the latter case the Collector, after making the necessary inquiry and taking such evidence as may be adduced, shall record a proceeding declaring the nature and extent of the interests in the actual possession of the party or parties applying for the partition, and any other party or parties who may be affected thereby. The procedure to be observed by the Collector in trying such cases shall be that laid down in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) for the trial of original suits.

X. All orders and decisions passed by the Collector under the last preceding Section, for declaring the rights of parties, shall be held to be decisions of a Court of Civil Judicature of first instance, and shall be open to appeal to the District or Sudder Court, according to the value of the claim, under the rules applicable to regular appeals to those Courts. Upon such appeal being made, the District or Sudder Court, as the case may be, may issue a precept to the Collector desiring him to stay the partition pending the decision of the appeal.

XI. From every decision passed under the last preceding Section by a District Court, a special appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court under the rules for the time being in force relating to special appeals to that Court.

XII. It shall not be competent to the Civil Court to entertain a suit or application for the partition of an estate, except on appeal from the decision of the Collector as hereinbefore provided, anything contained in Section 225 Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) to the contrary notwithstanding.

XIII. When the Collector, after disposing of the objections (if any) taken to the partition, shall order a partition to be made, he shall cause a Notification to be published in his own Office, in the District Court, and at some conspicuous place on the estate which is to be divided, intimating his intention to proceed with the partition after thirty days from the date of the Notification.

XIV. The partition shall be made by the Collector in whose District the estate is situate, or, if the estate be situate in two or more Districts, then by the Collector of any one of such Districts, who may be specially ordered by the Commissioner of the Division to superintend the partition.

XV. The expense of making the partition and the allowances of the establishment necessary for the measurement and survey of the lands, the preparation of papers, and any other charges, shall be fixed by the Collector. The amount shall be charged rateably to all the proprietors, according to the extent of their respective interests in the estate, unless for any special reason the Collector shall be of opinion that the amount should be otherwise distributed amongst the proprietors. The amount shall be paid under such rules as may from time to time be laid down by the Board of Revenue with the sanction of the local Government, and, in default of payment, may be realized under the rules applicable to the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

XVI. At any stage of the proceedings after a partition shall have been ordered, if it shall appear from information which was not before the Collector at the time the partition was ordered or otherwise, that any reason, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, exists why the partition should not be proceeded with, it shall be competent to the Commissioner, on the report of the Collector, and subject to any orders that the Board of Revenue may pass in the case, to stay the partition and to order the proceedings to be quashed. The decision of the Revenue authorities under this Section shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court.

XVII. After the expiration of the period mentioned in the Notification referred to in Section XIII of this Act, the Collector shall, if necessary, direct the Officer appointed to make the partition to cause a measurement of all the lands comprised in the estate to be made and a rent-roll of the same to be prepared. The village papers which are required to be prepared and periodically deposited in the Office of the Collector under the provisions of Sections XIJ. and XIII. Regulation IX. 1858 (to modify certain portions of Regulation VII. 1822 and Regulation IV. 1828; to provide for the more speedy and satisfactory decision of judicial questions cognizable by Officers of Revenue employed in making settlements under the above Regulations; for enforcing the production of the village accounts; for the more extensive employment of Native Agency in the Revenue Department; and to declare the intent of Section V Regulation VII. 1822, touching claims to Malikana) may be used for the purposes of this Act. Provided that any of the proprietors shall be permitted to file a rent-roll of the estate which shall be accepted if acknowledged to be correct by all the proprietors.

XVIII. The Collector may examine the parties on solemn affirmation in regard to the papers produced before him whether by the Officer appointed to make the partition, the proprietors, or otherwise. He shall also allow any shareholder to examine the papers so produced and to take a copy of the same, and after such examination he shall hear any objections which any of the shareholders may make in respect to such papers. The Collector may direct any Deputy Collector or other Officer subordinate to him to examine the papers produced before him and to make a report upon the same.

XIX. The Collector on the completion of the enquiry allowed by the last preceding Section shall allow the parties the option of making a private partition of the estate and allotment of the public revenue amongst themselves within such time as he may fix, or, if the parties shall not consent to make a private partition of the estate, or shall fail to make such partition within the time fixed by the Collector, the Collector shall call upon them to state whether they are willing to refer the partition of the estate and the apportionment of the public revenue to an arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed by them. The Collector may also offer the parties the option of referring any point arising in the course of a partition to arbitration. The partition and allotment of the public revenue made by the parties or by arbitrators, appointed by them shall be subject to the confirmation of the Collector and the orders of the superior Revenue authorities.

XX. If the parties consent to refer the partition of the estate and the allotment of the public revenue or any point arising in the course of the partition to arbitration, but they cannot agree amongst themselves as to the arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed, the Collector may appoint two or more persons to be arbitrators in the case. If the arbitrators are equally divided in opinion the Collector shall act as umpire, and the partition made by the arbitrator or arbitrators with whom the Collector shall concur, shall be the partition in the case. The same rule shall apply in respect of any point arising in the course of a partition which shall be referred to arbitration.

XXI. If any person, on being appointed an arbitrator, shall refuse to act, or, after accepting the appointment, shall die or become incapable of acting, another person shall be appointed arbitrator in his stead, in the same manner in which the first person was appointed.

XXII. After the arbitrators shall have accepted the appointment, the Collector shall transmit the whole of the papers to them, and it shall be competent to the Collector to exercise towards the arbitrators the same powers and authority for securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, which he is competent to exercise towards witnesses summoned before him when acting judicially for the purpose of compelling them to attend and give evidence. The Collector shall also fix a time within which the arbitrator or arbitrators shall deliver the paper of partition. On sufficient cause shown, the Collector may extend such period.

XXIII. The arbitrators shall deliver a full and complete paper of partition, specifying the separate estates into which they propose that the estates shall be divided, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are proposed to be allotted, and the amount of public revenue to be assessed on each of such estates.

XXIV. The arbitrators, on delivering the paper of partition as aforesaid, shall be entitled to reasonable fees for their services, the amount to be fixed by the Collector.

XXV. If the paper of partition be not delivered within the time fixed by the Collector, or within any further period to which the time may have been extended, the Collector may order that the partition shall be referred to another arbitrator or arbitrators to be chosen in the same manner and subject to the same rules as the first.

XXVI. If the partition of the estate cannot be made by the parties themselves or by arbitration under the foregoing rules, the Collector shall appoint an Officer to make the partition, and shall forward the whole of the papers to such Officer, and shall direct him to proceed to the estate and to make the partition within a time to be fixed by the Collector.

XXVII. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall issue a proclamation at the Mul-Cutcherry of the estate or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chouree or Choupal, requiring the several proprietors of the estate to attend upon him in person or by Agent during the time that the partition is being made.

XXVIII. The Collector may direct the Officer appointed to make the partition at the commencement of the revenue year current in the District, to attach the estate and to bring it under Khas management under the personal superintendence of such

Officer. The collections of the estate, after defraying the expenses of management and any other expenses with which the estate is chargeable, shall be applied to the payment of the Government revenue, and the residue shall be divided amongst the proprietors in proportion to their respective shares at such periods as the Collector may see fit.

XXIX. If an arrear of public revenue shall accrue on an estate ordered to be divided, while the partition of the estate is being made, any one or more of the proprietors may tender to the Collector his or their quota of the balance, and the Collector shall receive the same and credit the amount to the share or shares of such proprietor or proprietors. If a sale of any part of the estate shall ultimately become necessary for the liquidation of any part of such arrear which may remain due, only the share or shares of the proprietor or proprietors who shall not have contributed their quota of the balance shall be sold in the first instance, and the partition shall go on and be completed in the same manner as if no arrear of public revenue had accrued. The purchaser or purchasers of the share or shares sold shall be entitled to separate possession of the estate or estates which under the partition would have been allotted to the defaulting proprietor or proprietors. Provided always that in all cases of a partition the entire estate shall be considered responsible for the public revenue assessed upon it until the partition shall have been completed and the several proprietors shall have been put into possession of the separate estates into which the estate may be ordered to be divided according as the same may be allotted to them.

XXX. If the Officer appointed to make the partition shall consider it necessary to assist him in making the same, to cause a detailed measurement to be made of all the lands comprised in the estate, or a map of the estate to be prepared, he shall exercise the same powers for making such measurement and map as are vested in the Collector by any law for the time being in force.

XXXI. When some of the lands forming the estate are held in common, the Collector shall declare, by a proceeding to be held under the provisions of this Act, the principle and rule under which, in accordance with the village custom, such lands shall be divided; and he shall cause the partition of such lands to be made in conformity to the provisions of this Act. The portion of the common land falling by such partition to the shares of the several co-sharers shall be added to the lands held by them in severalty, and the several estates thus formed shall be assessed and declared separate estates.

Provido. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector to cause any transfer of lands agreed to by the parties, to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

XXXII. The Collector may refuse to declare any lands held in severalty and not liable to re-distribution according to special village custom a separate mahal, if the lands be so intermixed with other properties as to render the formation of a compact estate impossible, and if the parties affected by the partition decline to permit of the transfers necessary for curing such defect.

XXXIII. Where there may be no lands held in common, the lands in severalty, held by the applicant for partition, or assigned to him by the Collector under the provisions of this Act, shall be assessed and declared a separate estate. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector to cause any transfer of lands agreed to, or directed by his order under this and the foregoing Section, to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

Where there are no lands held in common, lands in severalty may be declared a separate estate.

Provido as to transfers

XXXIV. If any sharer, after the issue of the proclamation mentioned in Section XXVII of this Act, shall fail to attend the Officer appointed to make the partition during the time the partition is being made, no objection taken by such sharer to the partition, shall be heard, unless such sharer can show that his absence was not wilful, or unless for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear just and proper to allow him to be heard against the partition.

XXXV. If, at any time after an order shall have been passed for making a partition, it shall appear, either from the report of the Officer appointed to make the partition, or from any other information, that the parties are not desirous that the partition should proceed, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to stop the partition, and to strike the case off the file, recovering from the sharers all costs and expenses incurred up to that time.

XXXVI. It shall be the duty of the Officer appointed to make the partition, so far as circumstances will admit, to take care that the estates into which the estate is divided shall consist of contiguous mehals or villages. Provided that if the estate ordered to be divided shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages to admit of one or more entire village or villages being included in each estate, the partition of the village or villages of which the estate shall consist shall be made so as to render each estate as compact as possible.

XXXVII. The public revenue shall be assessed on each estate into which the property shall be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules contained in any law for the time being in force.

XXXVIII. In selecting the villages or lands to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads, railways, navigable rivers, or canals, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of cultivable and uncultivable waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks and wells, the state of the embankments and water-courses, and any other local circumstances affecting the present or likely to influence the future value of the lands, shall be duly considered, and the villages or lands to be included in each estate shall be fairly and impartially selected. So far as may be practicable and consistent with compactness of partition, lands held in severalty shall be left in the possession of the parties holding the same.

XXXIX. If a dwelling-house belonging to one sharer shall be situate on any land or in any village which it may be necessary to include in the share of another sharer, the proprietor of such house shall be at liberty to retain it, with the offices, buildings, and grounds immediately attached thereto, upon agreeing to pay to the proprietor of the land or village in which the same is situate an equitable rent for the ground. The limits of the ground and the rent to be paid for it shall be fixed by the Officer making the partition and shall be stated in the paper of partition.

XL. Tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments shall be considered as attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made. In cases in which, from the extent, situation, or construction of such works, it shall be found necessary to continue them the joint property of the proprietors of two or more of the estates into which the estate may be divided, the paper of partition shall specify, as far as circumstances may admit, the extent to which the proprietors of each of such estates may make use of the same and of the proportion of the charges for repairs to be borne by them respectively.

Rule as to tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments. Rule as to places of worship. XLII. Places of worship which shall have been held in common previous to the partition of an estate shall continue to be so held, unless the parties shall otherwise agree amongst themselves, in which case they shall state in writing the agreement into which they have entered, and the Officer making the partition shall enter a note of the agreement in the paper of partition.

XLIII. The Officer appointed to make the partition of an estate, shall exercise in such estate all the powers described in Act X of 1859 (to amend the law relating to the recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Bengal) and determine all suits and differences triable under that law between landlord and tenant; and any cases relating to the estate which may be depending before any Collector or Deputy Collector during the time the partition is in progress may be transferred to such Officer for disposal.

XLIV. When the Officer appointed to make the partition shall have completed the partition and allotted the public Revenue on each of the estates into which it is proposed that the estate shall be divided, he shall prepare and submit to the Collector a paper of partition showing how he proposes to divide the estate and to apportion the public revenue. This paper shall specify the names of the Mehals or villages included in each separate estate, the gross produce of each Mahal and village for the three years immediately preceding the year in which the partition is ordered to be made, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are allotted, and the proportion of the public revenue proposed to be assessed on each of such estates, with any remarks regarding the mode observed in selecting the lands included in each estate, and the accounts upon which the apportionment of the public revenue assessed thereon shall have been based, as may be necessary for the information of the Collector. The paper shall further contain a detail of the adjustments, if any, which shall have been made in respect to any tanks, places of worship, or other matters, as specified in the preceding Sections. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall also submit a map showing the several estates into which the estate is proposed to be divided.

XLIV. The Collector shall take into consideration the partition proposed by the Officer appointed to make the partition, and, after calling for any further information which he shall deem necessary and disposing of any objections which shall be taken to the partition and allotment of public revenue as proposed by such Officer, he shall submit a report to the Commissioner together with such of the papers of the case as shall appear to him essential. He shall also forward a list of the papers not sent. The Collector shall record his opinion whether the proposed partition should be confirmed or modified, and in the latter case he shall state the nature of the modification which in his opinion should be made.

XLV. The Commissioner shall either uphold the partition proposed by the Collector or modify the same. The decision of the Commissioner shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court, but shall be subject to appeal to the Board of Revenue. The Commissioner, before coming to a decision, may call for any additional papers, or direct any further inquiry that he shall consider necessary.

XLVI. On the receipt of the order of the Commissioner, or, if an appeal be preferred to the Board of Revenue, then of the order passed on the appeal, the Collector shall cause the same to be published in his Office and in some conspicuous place in each of the estates separately constituted by such order. The Collector shall at the same time specify the date from which each of the estates shall be held to be a separate estate, and shall enter the several estates into which the estate has been divided in the Register of Estates paying revenue to Government. The Collector shall give the several proprietors possession of the estates allotted to them, and, if necessary, may avail himself of the assistance of the Magistrate in giving possession.

XLVII. In order to prevent collusion or error in the distribution of the public revenue assessed upon an estate which may be ordered to be divided into two or more distinct estates, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Government within twelve years from and after the date of confirmation of the partition, that the public revenue was fraudulently or erroneously apportioned at the time of the partition, the Government shall have power to order a new allotment of the public revenue upon the several estates into which such estate may have been divided conformably to the principles prescribed in this Act, on an estimate of the gross produce of each estate at the time of the partition, to be made agreeably to the best evidence and information which may be procurable respecting the same. Such order shall not be liable to be contested in the Civil Court. The parties whose estates may be declared to have been under-assessed shall be required to pay to the proprietors of the estates which shall have been over-assessed the sum in which they shall be found to have been over-assessed, and in default of payment the amount shall be leviable by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

XLVIII. If, during the time an estate is under attachment with a view to the partition of the same, any party shall neglect or omit to claim by a suit any right or title he may then have to the ownership or occupancy at a fixed rent of any land situated in such estate or any other interest therein, such neglect or omission shall be a valid plea in bar of any suit relating to such right, title, or interest, unless the party can satisfy the Court that there was good and sufficient reason for his neglect or omission to institute the suit at or before such time. Provided that this Section shall not bar any action for arrears of rent or the enhancement or alteration of rent.

XLIX. Whenever any Court of Civil Judicature shall pass a decree awarding to any person the proprietary right in a portion of an estate paying revenue to Government, whether the portion so awarded shall consist of a fractional share in the whole or a part of the estate, or of specific lands, the decree-holder may apply to the Collector for a partition of the estate; and on the receipt of such application, the Collector shall proceed thereupon under the provisions of this Act, which are hereby declared applicable to such applications.

L. If two or more estates, which may have originally formed portions of the same estate, shall come into the possession of one person, such person shall be entitled to have such estates united and to hold them as a single estate; or if two or more persons shall have separate possession of their respective shares of an estate which was originally held as a joint undivided estate, such persons may apply to have their shares united and to hold them as one estate.

LI. The applications for the union of the estates or of the shares of the estate, as the case may be, shall be made in writing to the Collector of the District in which the estates or shares of the estate are situate, and the Collector (provided he see no objection) shall comply with the application and cause the necessary entries to be made in the records of his Office, reporting the case to the superior Revenue Authorities.

LII. The provisions of this Act, so far as they relate to the completion and confirmation or to the staying or quashing of the partition of an estate, may be applied at the discretion of the Collector in all cases of the partition of estates pending at the time of the passing of this Act.

LIII. The provisions of this Act may, in so far as the same are applicable, be applied by order of the local Government to the partition of any estate held free from the payment of Government revenue.

LIV. In the performance of his duties under this Act, the Collector shall be subject to the general direction and control of the Commissioner of the Division and the Board of Revenue.

LV. All orders passed by a Collector under this Act, unless otherwise provided, not being orders or decisions within the meaning of Section X, shall be open to revision by the superior Revenue Authorities.

LVI. The powers vested in a Collector by this Act may be exercised by a Deputy Collector or other Officer vested with the full powers of a Collector, subject to the control of the Collector of the District.

LVII. In carrying out the provisions of this Act the Collector shall exercise the powers described in Regulation II. 1819, Regulation VII. 1822, and Regulations IX and XIV. 1825. Any Officer appointed to make a partition under this Act may also exercise the powers described in the foregoing Regulations, so far as the same may be applicable.

LVIII. If, in any case in which a Collector or other Officer shall exercise jurisdiction under this Act, any person is guilty of the offence of giving or fabricating false evidence or of forgery as defined in the Indian Penal Code or of abetting any of those offences, such Collector or other Officer shall have the same powers in respect of such offence and of the person charged with committing the same as are vested by the Code of Criminal Procedure in a Civil Court when any such offence is committed before or against such Court, or when a document charged to be a forgery is given in evidence in any proceedings in such Court.

LIX. In the execution of the duties vested in the Board of Revenue by this Act, the Board shall be guided by such orders or instructions as they may from time to time receive from the local Government, to whom they shall apply in all cases which shall appear to the Board not to have been provided for by the existing law.

LX. The provisions of this Act, so far as they relate to the completion and confirmation or to the staying or quashing of the partition of an estate, may be applied at the discretion of the Collector in all cases of the partition of estates pending at the time of the passing of this Act.

LX. Unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number, and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

LXI. This Act shall extend only to such parts of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal as are subject to the general Regulations of that Presidency; but the Act may be extended by order of the local Government, either wholly or in part, to any Non-Regulation Province under such Government.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

THE present law under which the partition of estates, held in joint tenancy, is made by the Revenue Officers of Government in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, has been found defective in respect to a very numerous class of estates in the North-Western Provinces of that Presidency, that is to say, estates the property of two or more persons the lands comprised in which are held partly in severalty and partly in common.

• Under Section 20 Regulation XIX of 1874 of the Bengal Code. The wording of the present law* precludes the application of its provisions to estates of this description, and even the lands in such estates which are held in common are considered not to be divisible under it.

But a more serious objection to the existing law is to be found in the extremely dilatory character of the procedure which it lays down for the partition of a joint undivided estate. The nature of this procedure is such that it admits of constant impediments being thrown in the way of a partition by any person who has an object or an interest in obstructing or retarding the partition, and the consequence is, in the great majority of cases, almost intolerable delay.

The objects chiefly aimed at in the present Bill, are the removal of the defect in the present law, already noticed, and the introduction of a more simple and summary procedure which shall admit of the partition of an estate held in common tenancy being ordinarily effected within a comparatively short period, instead of being, as is not unfrequently the case at present, the work of several years if not of a long life.

It is a question whether the partition of very small estates should be allowed, the objection to the partition of such estates being the difficulty experienced in collecting the Revenue of Government from a number of small properties. But a Regulation was passed upwards of half a century ago (Regulation V. 1810) which seems to have recognised the right of every co-sharer in a joint undivided estate, whatever its extent, to have his share of the estate separated from the rest and to hold the same in severalty; and the right being conceded, it is only just and proper that the law should afford means for the enforcement of the right without difficulty, with reasonable expedition, and at a moderate cost. It is hoped that the present Bill will provide such means.

A table showing the arrangement and subject of the Sections of which the Bill consists is affixed to the Bill. To this table I beg to refer for the detailed provisions of the Bill.

It will be seen that Section LIII proposes to allow the provisions of the Bill to be applied, at the discretion of the local Government, to the partition of estates held free from the payment of Government revenue. The present law has been applied in its application to estates paying revenue to Government. The extension of the law, under certain circumstances, in the manner proposed, to rent-free estates is considered desirable in reference to some of the grants of estates or shares of estates which were made for services rendered during the eventful years of 1857 and 1858.

The Bill, as now framed, has been seen by the Members of the Sadler Board of Revenue at Allahabad, and is approved of by them. I believe I may say it has also the approval of the Honorable the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, at whose instance the Bill is brought in.

In preparing the Bill, I received great assistance from Baboo Prasanna Chomar Tagore, the learned Clerk Assistant of the late Legislative Council.

The Bill, as it was originally drawn by me, was intended to apply to all the Regulation Districts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal; but on hearing that a separate Legislative Council was to be constituted for the Lower Provinces of Bengal, I at once determined to restrict the application of the Bill to the North-Western Provinces of that Presidency, and the Bill is now framed accordingly. I believe I have sufficient ground for saying that the alterations which the Bill proposes to make in the existing law as regards the North-Western Provinces are, for the most part, equally required for the Lower Provinces of Bengal; but the introduction of a Bill for Bengal obviously falls more properly within the province of the local Legislature than of the Council of the Governor-General of India.

The 29th January 1882.

M. WYLIE,

Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,

Home Department

THE following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th March 1882, and was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to make their Report thereon in one month:—

A Bill for extending certain provisions of Acts XIV and XXV of 1856 to the Town and Suburbs of Rangoon, and to the Towns of Moulmein, Tavoy, and Mergui, and for appointing Municipal Commissioners, and for levying rates and taxes in the said Towns.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the conservancy and improvement of the Towns and Suburbs of Rangoon, and the Towns of Moulmein, Tavoy, and Mergui, for the appointment of Commissioners, and for assessing and levying rates and taxes for municipal purposes in the said Towns; It is enacted as follows:—

I. STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill was prepared and brought into the late Legislative Council at the request of the Government of India, for the purpose of extending to Rangoon, Moulmein, Tavoy, and Mergui the provisions of Municipal Law which now prevail in the Presidency Towns and the Straits Settlement.

Some slight departures from the existing Law will be found in the Bill, but they are only such as the peculiar circumstances of the Towns which it is now proposed to bring under the Municipal Acts, have called for.

Since this Bill was originally published for general information, petitions on the subject of it have been received from the inhabitants of the Towns to which it refers. These petitions will be laid before any Select Committee that may be nominated to report on this Bill.

Act XIX. of 1861 having come into operation on the 1st instant, it is important to guard against any misapprehension among Treasury Officers as to the wishes of Government in regard to the action of District Officers generally in promoting the introduction of the new Currency.

The new Currency Notes are now a legal tender in certain Districts as specified in the Notification cited in the margin, and must necessarily be received, when tendered, in payment of demands of Government of every description; but Silver can only be demanded as of right in exchange for Notes at the several Presidency Towns whence they have been issued.

It is the desire of Government that, as far as possible, every facility may be afforded by local Officers for cashing Notes, and that every legitimate means may be employed to promote, generally, the free circulation of the new Currency; but it is equally their wish that there may be an entire absence of any thing which could be construed into a desire to force the circulation, or in any way interfere with the free action of the community in resorting, at their own time, and in their own way, to the use of the Currency Notes. Officers will recollect that the Government have no direct interest in forcing the Paper Currency, and that any Act which leads to such a suspicion will only retard the period when confidence may be fully established, and the community reap the benefit of an improved circulating medium.

It may be expected that there will be a tendency to employ the New Notes to a considerable extent as a means of remittance and for small amounts among private parties, and, in localities distant from Banks, it may be desirable that the Government should give facilities for this purpose; but it would be very objectionable if this were carried so far as to interfere with the legitimate operations of private enterprise, or with the system of Supply Bills to which the public are accustomed.

Much, in matters of this description, must necessarily be left to the discretion of the local Officers; but without incurring risk of inconvenience, it may be prescribed, generally, as the rule to be observed—

1st.—That Notes are to be received in payment of all demands of Government, but are for the present to be paid only when parties receiving payment do not object.

2nd.—That Notes are to be cashed at places where there are no Branch Banks acting as Agents for the Government Currency, and then only to a limited extent, and for small sums, as an accommodation to private parties or travellers at the discretion of Treasury Officers.

3rd.—That Supply Bills are to be paid, generally, at the option of the holders either in Coin or Notes, subject to such instructions as may, from time to time, be received from the Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General.

4th.—That Notes should never be returned to the Presidency except under the direct instructions of the Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General.

5th.—That a Report as to the progress of these measures should, from time to time, be furnished to Government, and should the local Officers foresee any difficulty as likely to arise they should at once report it.

No. 328 of 1862.—The following Order, issued by the Government of Bombay, is confirmed:—

No. 178, dated 8th March 1862.—Granting leave of absence to Europe, on Medical Certificate, to the undermentioned Officers:—

Captain Henry Ferrers Wad-	} For twenty
dington, of the Bengal Staff
Corps, Deputy Commissioner of the Jubbulpore Division,
Mundlah ...	months.

Lieutenant Gerveys Richard	} For eighteen
Grylls, of the late 18th Regiment Native Infantry ..	months, under the new Regulations.

No. 329 of 1862.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to observe that, before the revision of the pay of European Soldiers in 1840, European Non-Commissioned Officers on detached Staff employ in the Bengal Presidency, received dry batta at Rupees (10) ten per mensem, from which they provided their own rations.

2. On the revision of pay by Government General Order No. 146, dated 8th July 1840, the sum of (Rs. 1-9-10) one Rupee, nine annas and ten pie in Garrison, and Rupees (3-2-8) three, two annas and eight pie per mensem on the Field Scale, was added to the pay of the European Soldiers of all ranks. This addition having been made applicable to those on Staff employ, a corresponding deduction, viz., of Rupees (3-2-8) three, two annas and eight pie, was made from their dry batta, thus reducing it from Rupees (10) ten to Rupees (6-13-4) six, thirteen annas and four pie per month.

3. It was subsequently ordered by Government General Order No. 59 of 17th March 1843, that as the pay of European Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates, whether on Staff employ or on Regimental duty, was uniform, so those on Staff employ should receive as dry batta no more than the equivalent for the sum of (5) five pence per diem, which is stopped for rations from the pay of the Soldier doing Regimental duty. The dry batta of European Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates on Staff employ was accordingly fixed by Government General Order of 17th March 1843, No. 59, at Rupees (6-5-4) six, five annas and four pie per mensem, and it still continues at that rate.

4. It is known, however, owing to the additions made to the Soldier's ration by General Order by the Governor General No. 876, dated 28th October 1853, that the monthly cost of the Soldier's ration exceeds Rupees (6-5-4) six, five annas and four pie even at the wholesale prices at which the articles of the ration are obtained by the Commissariat, and that the Soldier on detached employ cannot provide his food on that allowance.

5. It is ruled accordingly that European Non-Commissioned Officers, Corporals, and Privates on detached Staff employ, or serving in situations where they are not rationed by the Commissariat, shall, if not drawing consolidated salaries, be allowed dry batta at Rupees (10) ten, instead of Rupees (6-5-4) six, five annas and four pie per mensem.

6. This indulgence is conceded to all who receive Military pay and dry batta.

G. O. 2. The reply is entirely in accordance with the intentions of Her Majesty's Government.

No. 338 of 1862.—In continuation of Government General Order No. 246 of the 19th March 1861, the following Rules are now issued, modifying and defining more particularly the distribution of duties between the different Departments supplying the service of the Barrack Department.

2. Barrack Masters will have charge of all complete and finished buildings, furniture, &c. Of the latter he will keep a strict account, distributing it according to the exigencies of the service.

3. The repair and supply of Barrack Furniture, ordered in the above Notification to be performed by the Public Works Department, will, in future, be provided, on requisitions, by Barrack Masters, countersigned by an Officer of the Quarter-Master General's Department, to the Commissariat Department, which will be at liberty to have the works executed by private Contractors, by Regimental Workshops, or by the Department of Public Works. The Quarter-Master General, or any Officer of his Department authorizing the work, will be responsible for its being undertaken, while the responsibility for the cost of execution will rest with the Commissariat Officer.

4. When the Commissariat indents upon the Public Works Department for the construction or repair of Barrack Furniture, the Public Works Department will comply with the Indent, each description of work being executed according to rates detailed in Schedules, which are to be prepared by the Public Works Department in the beginning of each year, and are to continue in force from the 1st May for the succeeding twelve months. These Schedules of rates will be sent to the Military Finance Department by the Local Governments or Chief Engineer, in order to enable that Department to issue Rules for the examination of charges and to control the expenditure.

5. The Executive Engineer at each Station will present his Bill to the Commissariat Officer for work executed in repairs, or supplying of Barrack Furniture during any month, immediately after the close of it; the works done will be charged for at the Schedule rates, and the Bill will be immediately discharged in cash by the Commissariat Officer.

6. Should an Indent be made by the Commissariat Department on the Executive Engineer for any work of an unforeseen nature, the cost of which has not been provided for by the Schedule rates, the Executive Engineer will furnish the Commissariat Officer with an Estimate of cost, and the responsibility of ordering the work will then rest with the Commissariat Officer. Should the Commissariat Officer authorize the work to be executed in the Public Works Department, the estimated cost is to be charged in the Bill of the Officer of the Public Works Department, whether it exceed or fall short of the actual cost incurred; the Executive Engineer in this, as in the case of Schedule rates, being responsible to the Authorities of his own Department for not exceeding his Estimates. The Bill for the work executed will have attached to it the Estimate of the Public Works Department.

7. In order to facilitate the check over the expenditure, the annual Estimates for Barrack Supplies will be prepared by the Quarter-Master General's Department; the Officers of the Commissariat Department will obtain and give timely information of the rates to be charged in the Schedule of the Public Works Department for the following year, and when required to do so, will assist the Officers of the Quarter-Master General's Department in preparing their Estimates by supplying them with information as to rates and prices.

8. The forms for these Estimates will be prescribed by the Military Finance Department, by which Department the Estimates will be checked and passed.

9. Fire Engines will be in charge of Officers Commanding the Regiments, in whose lines the Engines are located. The Barrack Master should inspect them occasionally. They should be repaired by the Ordnance Department when practicable, and where there is no Workshop, in the manner provided above for repairs to furniture.

10. These Rules will come into force from the 1st May 1862. For the remainder of the present year the existing procedure will continue in force, detailed information of the work executed by the Public Works Department being supplied to the Military Finance Department under instructions which have been issued by the former.

11. A credit will be transferred immediately from the Military to the Public Works Department to cover the expenditure that has been, or may be, incurred during the current year on the transmission, by the Public Works Department, of an account or an approximate Statement of such expenditure.

No. 342 of 1862.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council is pleased, with the view of payments of Prize Money being made in England, concurrently with payments in India, to lay down the following Rules:—

I. That no Officer or Soldier shall receive his share in England so long as the Head Quarters of his Regiment shall be in India unless he produce a Certificate, in the case of an Officer, shewing that his share has not been paid in India; or unless his name, in the case of a Non-Commissioned Officer or Soldier, be found on a Roll of unpaid shares forwarded from India.

II. That, on the embarkation of the Head-Quarters of any Regiment or Battery from India, payments in India shall cease; Nominal Rolls shall be forwarded to England, and thenceforward no payment shall be made in India to Officers or Soldiers of that Regiment or Battery but upon the production of Certificates that their shares have not been, and will not be, paid in England.

III. With regard, however, to Corps already proceeded to England which, before embarkation, drew Prize Money for all except Volunteers to other Regiments in India, the foregoing Clause shall be in abeyance for two months from this date; claims on behalf of the Volunteers are to be submitted within that period by the Officers of the Corps which the Volunteers have joined.

The same rule will apply to Officers of Regiments in India who have left the country, but have assigned their shares to individuals residing in India.

V. In all cases of deceased Officers and Soldiers who have left no representatives in India, as also of Soldiers who returned to England prior to the commencement of distribution, and of Officers who similarly returned without having assigned their shares in India, the fact of their decease or of their having so returned, is to be notified in a complete copy of the Prize Rolls to be forwarded by the General Prize Committee to the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital.

VI. In the case of Regiments which returned to England prior to the commencement of distribution similar complete Rolls will be sent to India. These Rolls will specify in every case whether the shares are to be paid in India, or by the Commissioners of Chelsea Hospital in England.

2. To enable the General Prize Committee to send to the Home Authorities the List of all unpaid shares, including those of men of both Line and Local Forces who may leave India while the distribution is being made without having received their shares of Prizes Officers Commanding Regiments and Batteries are requested to send to the said Committee within a fortnight of the receipt of this Order, Prize Lists of Non-Commissioned, Officers and men invalided and discharged and sent to England, and of deceased men who have left no heirs in India and whose Estates have been sent to England.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

No. 136.

Fort William, the 13th March 1862.

The following Extract from a Report of a recent Survey of the Coco Islands by Lieutenant Jackson, I. N., Commander of the Bengal Government Steam Vessel "Krishna," is published for general information:—

"On the morning of the 16th I have to off Narcondam Island, with the peak bearing north (true) by Azimuth, and observed its longitude west of Fort Cornwallis Flagstaff, Penang, $6^{\circ} 02' 48''$, and its latitude, deduced from observation at noon by means of two patent log distances, $13^{\circ} 27' 00''$ north. The height above the level of the sea being 2,150 feet, and the variation 3° easterly.

From the above observations I find that Narcondam is placed about fourteen miles too far north in the Chart of the Bay of Bengal, published by Messrs. Allen and Company, in London, 8th September 1857. This is obviously an oversight, as the latitude here given agrees with that of former observers."

LEGISLATIVE.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 12th March 1862, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

Act No. VII of 1862.

An Act to amend Act XLVI of 1860 (to authorize and regulate the Emigration of Native Laborers to the French Colonies.)

WHEREAS since the passing of Act XLVI of 1860 (to authorize and regulate the Emigration of Native Laborers to the French Colonies) the Convention therein recited between Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and His Majesty the Emperor of the French has been varied in the following particulars: that is to say, by substituting for Article XXVI in the said Convention as so recited in the said Act, the following Articles:

"ARTICLE XXVI.

The present Convention shall begin to take effect on the 1st of July 1862; its duration is fixed at three years and a half. It shall remain in full force if notice for its termination be not given in the course of the month of July of the third year, and then notice can be given only in the course of the month of July of each succeeding year.

In case of such notice being given it shall cease eighteen months afterwards.

Nevertheless the Governor-General of British India in Council shall, in conformity with the Act of the 19th of September 1856, relative to immigration to British Colonies, have the power to suspend at any time emigration to any one or more of the French Colonies, in the event of his having reason to believe that in any such Colony proper measures have not been taken for the protection of the Emigrants immediately upon their arrival or during their residence therein or for their safe return to India, or to provide a return passage to India for any such Emigrants at or about the time at which they are entitled to such return passage.

In case, however, the power thus reserved to the Governor-General of British India should at any time be exercised, the French Government shall have the right immediately to terminate the whole Convention if they should think proper to do so.

But in the event of the determination of the present Convention, from whatever cause, the stipulations relative to Indian subjects of Her Britannic Majesty introduced into the French Colonies shall be maintained in force in favor of the said Indian subjects until they shall either have been sent back to their own country, or have renounced their right to a return passage to India."

And also by the addition of the two following Articles which were not comprised in the Convention or recited in the said Act, that is to say—

"ARTICLE XXVII.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Paris in four weeks, or sooner if possible.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.

His Majesty the Emperor of the French having stated that, in consequence of the order which he gave long ago that no more African Emigrants should be introduced into the Island of Reunion, that Colony has, since last year, had to obtain laborers from India and China; and Her Britannic Majesty having, by Convention signed on the 25th of July 1860, between Her Majesty and His Majesty the Emperor of the French, authorized the Colony of Re-union to recruit six thousand laborers in Her Indian possessions, it is agreed that the Convention of this date shall take effect forthwith with regard to the said Colony of Re-union.

The present Additional Article shall have the same force and validity as if it were inserted word for word in the Convention signed this day. It shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at the same time as those of the Convention."

And whereas the said Convention, with such alterations and additions as aforesaid, together with such additional Article, has been duly signed, ratified, and confirmed:

It is declared and enacted as follows:—

All the provisions of Act XLVI of 1860 (to authorize and regulate the Emigration of Native Laborers to the French Colonies) shall be and remain in full force notwithstanding that the Convention therein recited had been so altered and added to before the same was signed or ratified as aforesaid: and all such provisions, in so far as the same relate to the Convention recited in the said Act, shall be deemed to apply and shall apply to the said Convention as signed and ratified as aforesaid together with the additional Article thereof.

M. WYLLIE,

Home Department.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th March 1862, and was referred to a Select Committee who will make a report thereon after the 22nd June next:—

A Bill to consolidate and amend the Law relating to the partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the Law relating to the partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal; It is enacted as follows:—

I. From the date of the passing of this Act Laws repealed. Regulation IX. 1811 of the Bengal Code (for facilitating the division of landed property, and for securing the rights of joint sharers in joint undivided Estates), Regulation XI. 1811 of the same Code (for extending the period fixed by the existing Regulations for revising the jumma on lands ordered to be divided into two or more Estates), Regulation XIX. 1814 of the same Code (for reducing to one Regulation, with alterations and additions, certain Regulations respecting the partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government), Act XX of 1836, and Act XI of 1838, except in so far as the said Regulations and Acts repeal any Regulation or Act or any part of any Regulation or Act, and except as to the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act, shall cease to have effect in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal. Unless as hereinafter provided, the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act shall be proceeded with and completed in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed.

II. Except as directed in the last preceding Section, all partitions of estates, which shall be ordered to be made by the Officers of Government after the passing of this Act, shall be made under the provisions of this Act, whatever may be the tenure of the estate ordered to be divided.

III. The following persons are entitled to the partition of estates, paying Revenue to Government, under this Act, namely:

Class 1.—Proprietors of estates in which all the sharers have a common right and interest in the whole of the estate, without any separate title to distinct lands forming part of the estate, and the rents of which, by whomsoever paid, are thrown into a common stock with all other profits arising from the estate, and, after deduction of expenses of management and payment of the public revenue assessed upon the estate, the balance is divided amongst the proprietors according to their several shares.

Class 2.—Proprietors of estates, whose interests consist of certain portions of the rents of the estate, and who pay their respective quotas of the public revenue assessed upon the whole estate either jointly or separately to Government.

Class 3.—Proprietors of estates, in which the whole of the lands forming the estate are divided and held in severalty by the different proprietors, but the entire estate is responsible for the amount of the public revenue assessed thereupon.

Class 4.—Proprietors of estates, in which part of the lands forming the estate are held by the proprietors in common, and part in severalty.

Class 5.—Proprietors of estates, in which some portion of the lands forming the estate is held in common, but the proprietors pay their respective quotas of the public revenue assessed upon the entire estate in proportion to their several shares of the estate, under engagements separately taken from them and entered in the Government rent-roll.

Class 6.—Proprietors of specific lands, forming part of an estate, but held in common as a separate property, such lands remaining liable with the body of the estate for the Government revenue assessed thereon.

IV. It shall not be lawful for any one or more of the proprietors of specific lands falling under Class 6 of the last preceding Section, unless assessed with a separate revenue according to law, to obtain a separation of his or their shares of such lands until, at the instance of the whole of the proprietors thereof, the lands have been separated from the estate and assessed in the manner prescribed by law with their proportion of the public revenue upon the entire estate.

V. If any one or more of the recorded proprietors of a joint undivided estate, whether held in common tenancy or otherwise, who may be entitled to partition under the provisions contained in Section III of this Act, shall desire to have his or their shares of the estate separated, in order that he or they may hold separate possession of the same, such proprietor or proprietors shall make a written application for the purpose to the Collector of the District. Any two or more proprietors may apply to have their shares separated and to hold the same as a joint estate.

VI. The application shall be signed by the party or parties applying for the partition, and shall specify the nature of the tenure of the estate sought to be divided. The names of all the co-sharers in the estate, the nature and extent of their respective shares, so far as the same may be known to the applicant or applicants, or can be ascertained by him or them, and the mode of partition desired shall also be stated. If the application does not contain the particulars abovementioned, the Collector may reject it.

VII. The Collector, on the receipt of an application for partition, shall, if the application be in order and not open to objection on the face of it, publish a Notification of the same at his Office and at some conspicuous place on the estate to which the application relates, and shall invite any party in possession, who may not have joined in the application and who may object to the partition applied for, to appear before him either in person or by a duly constituted Agent, on a day to be specified in the Notification, not being less than fifteen or more than thirty days from the date of the Notification, and state his in the manner usual in the District for serving notices of the Revenue Officers, on each of the recorded proprietors of the estate who shall not have joined in the application.

VIII. If any objection be made to the partition by any party in possession within the time allowed, and the Collector, on a consideration of such objection, be of opinion that for any cause the partition applied for is not practicable at that particular time, or if, in the opinion of the Collector, there be any good and sufficient reason, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, why the partition should be absolutely disallowed, he may refuse the application recording the grounds of his refusal.

Refusal of application by Collector on objection taken or for reasons to be recorded.

IX. If the objection raise any question of title or of proprietary right, which shall not appear to have been already determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the Collector may either decline to grant the application until the question in dispute shall have been determined by a competent Court, or he may proceed to inquire into the merits of the objection. In the latter case the Collector, after making the necessary inquiry and taking such evidence as may be adduced, shall record a proceeding declaring the nature and extent of the interests in the actual possession of the party or parties applying for the partition, and any other party or parties who may be affected thereby. The procedure to be observed by the Collector in trying such cases shall be that laid down in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) for the trial of original suits.

X. All orders and decisions passed by the Collector under the last preceding Section, for declaring the rights of parties, shall be held to be decisions of a Court of Civil Judicature of first instance, and shall be open to appeal to the District or Sudder Court, according to the value of the claim, under the rules applicable to regular appeals to those Courts. Upon such appeal being made, the District or Sudder Court, as the case may be, may issue a precept to the Collector desiring him to stay the partition pending the decision of the appeal.

Decisions of the Collector under the preceding Section to be held to be decisions of a Civil Court, and to be open to appeal.

XI. From every decision passed under the last preceding Section by a District Court, a special appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court under the rules for the time being in force relating to special appeals to that Court.

XII. It shall not be competent to the Civil Court to entertain a suit or application for the partition of an estate, except on appeal from the decision of the Collector as hereinbefore provided, anything contained in Section 225 Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) to the contrary notwithstanding.

XIII. When the Collector, after disposing of the objections (if any) taken to the partition, shall order a partition to be made, he shall cause a Notification to be published in his own Office, in the District Court, and at some conspicuous place on the estate which is to be divided, intimating his intention to proceed with the partition after thirty days from the date of the Notification.

XIV. The partition shall be made by the Collector in whose District the estate is situate, or, if the estate be situate in two or more Districts, then by the Collector of any one of such Districts, who may be specially ordered by the Commissioner of the Division to superintend the partition.

XV. The expense of making the partition and the allowances of the establishment necessary for the how to be fixed and measurement and survey of the by whom to be paid. lands, the preparation of papers, and any other charges, shall be fixed by the Collector. The amount shall be charged rateably to all the proprietors, according to the extent of their respective interests in the estate, unless for any special reason the Collector shall be of opinion that the amount should be otherwise distributed amongst the proprietors. The amount shall be paid under such rules as may from time to time be laid down by the Board of Revenue with the sanction of the local Government, and, in default of payment, may be realized under the rules applicable to the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

XVI. At any stage of the proceedings after a partition shall have been ordered, if it shall appear from information which was not before the Collector at the time the partition was ordered or otherwise, that any reason, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, exists why the partition should not be proceeded with, it shall be competent to the Commissioner, on the report of the Collector, and subject to any orders that the Board of Revenue may pass in the case, to stay the partition and to order the proceedings to be quashed. The decision of the Revenue authorities under this Section shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court.

XVII. After the expiration of the period mentioned in the Notification referred to in Section XIII of this Act, the Collector shall, if necessary, direct the Officer appointed to make the partition to cause a measurement of all the lands comprised in the estate to be made and a rent-roll of the same to be prepared. The village papers which are required to be prepared and periodically deposited in the Office of the Collector under the provisions of Sections XII. and XIII. Regulation IX. 1833 (to modify certain portions of Regulation VII. 1822 and Regulation IV. 1828; to provide for the more speedy and satisfactory decision of judicial questions cognizable by Officers of Revenue employed in making settlements under the above Regulations; for enforcing the production of the village accounts; for the more extensive employment of Native Agency in the Revenue Department; and to declare the intent of Section V Regulation VII. 1822, touching claims to Malikana) may be used for the purposes of this Act. Provided that any of the proprietors shall be permitted to file a rent-roll of the estate which shall be accepted if acknowledged to be correct by all the proprietors.

XVIII. The Collector may examine the parties on solemn affirmation in regard to the papers produced before him whether by the Officer appointed to make the partition, the proprietors, or otherwise. He shall also allow any shareholder to examine the papers so produced and to take a copy of the same, and after such examination he shall hear any objections which any of the shareholders may make in respect to such papers. The Collector may direct any Deputy Collector or other Officer subordinate to him to examine the papers produced before him and to make a report upon the same.

XIX. The Collector on the completion of the Partition may be made by private agreement or by arbitrators subject to confirmation by Collector, &c. enquiry allowed by the last preceding Section shall allow the parties the option of making a private partition of the estate and allotment of the public revenue amongst themselves within such time as he may fix, or, if the parties shall not consent to make a private partition of the estate, or shall fail to make such partition within the time fixed by the Collector, the Collector shall call upon them to state whether they are willing to refer the partition of the estate and the apportionment of the public revenue to an arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed by them. The Collector may also offer the parties the option of referring any point arising in the course of a partition to arbitration. The partition and allotment of the public revenue made by the parties or by arbitrators appointed by them shall be subject to the confirmation of the Collector and the orders of the superior Revenue authorities.

XX. If the parties consent to refer the partition of the estate and the allotment of the public revenue or any point arising in the course of the partition to arbitration, but they cannot agree amongst themselves as to the arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed, the Collector may appoint two or more persons to be arbitrators in the case. If the arbitrators are equally divided in opinion the Collector shall act as umpire, and the partition made by the arbitrator or arbitrators with whom the Collector shall concur, shall be the partition in the case. The same rule shall apply in respect of any point arising in the course of a partition which shall be referred to arbitration.

XXI. If any person, on being appointed an arbitrator, shall refuse to act, or, after accepting the appointment, shall die or become incapable of acting, another person shall be appointed arbitrator in his stead, in the same manner in which the first person was appointed.

XXII. After the arbitrators shall have accepted the appointment, the Collector shall transmit the whole of the papers to them, and it shall be competent to the Collector to exercise towards the arbitrators the same powers and authority for securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, which he is competent to exercise towards witnesses summoned before him when acting judicially for the purpose of compelling them to attend and give evidence. The Collector shall also fix a time within which the arbitrator or arbitrators shall deliver the paper of partition. On sufficient cause shown, the Collector may extend such period.

XXIII. The arbitrators shall deliver a full and complete paper of partition, specifying the separate estates into which they propose that the estates shall be divided, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are proposed to be allotted, and the amount of public revenue to be assessed on each of such estates.

XXIV. The arbitrators, on delivering the paper of partition as aforesaid, shall be entitled to reasonable fees for their services, the amount to be fixed by the Collector.

XXV. If the paper of partition be not delivered within the time fixed by the Collector, or within any further period to which the time may have been extended, the Collector may order that the partition shall be referred to another arbitrator or arbitrators to be chosen in the same manner and subject to the same rules as the first.

XXVI. If the partition of the estate cannot be made by the parties themselves or by arbitration under the foregoing rules, the Collector shall appoint an Officer to make the partition, and shall forward the whole of the papers to such Officer, and shall direct him to proceed to the estate and to make the partition within a time to be fixed by the Collector.

XXVII. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall issue a proclamation at the Mal-Cutcherry of the estate or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chaurse or Choupal, requiring the several proprietors of the estate to attend upon him in person or by Agent during the time that the partition is being made.

XXVIII. The Collector may direct the Officer appointed to make the partition at the commencement of the revenue year current in the District, to attach the estate and to bring it under Khas management under the personal superintendence of such Officer. The collections of the estate, after defraying the expenses of management and any other expenses with which the estate is chargeable, shall be applied to the payment of the Government revenue, and the residue shall be divided amongst the proprietors in proportion to their respective shares at such periods as the Collector may see fit.

XXIX. If an arrear of public revenue shall accrue on an estate ordered to be divided, while the partition of the estate is being made, any one or more of the proprietors may tender to the Collector his or their quota of the balance, and the Collector shall receive the same and credit the amount to the share or shares of such proprietor or proprietors. If a sale of any part of the estate shall ultimately become necessary for the liquidation of any part of such arrear which may remain due, only the share or shares of the proprietor or proprietors who shall not have contributed their quota of the balance shall be sold in the first instance, and the partition shall go on and be completed in the same manner as if no arrear of public revenue had accrued. The purchaser or purchasers of the share or shares sold shall be entitled to separate possession of the estate or estates which under the partition would have been allotted to the defaulting proprietor or proprietors. Provided always that in all cases of a partition the entire estate shall be considered responsible for the public revenue assessed upon it until the partition shall have been completed and the several proprietors shall have been put into possession of the separate estates into which the estate may be ordered to be divided according as the same may be allotted to them.

XXX. If the Officer appointed to make the partition shall consider it necessary to assist him in making the same, to cause a detailed measurement to be made of all the lands comprised in the estate, or a map of the estate to be prepared, he shall exercise the same powers for making such measurement and map as are vested in the Collector by any law for the time being in force.

XXXI. When some of the lands forming the estate are held in common, the Collector shall declare, by a proceeding to be held under the provisions of this Act, the principle and rule under which, in accordance with the village custom, such lands shall be divided; and he shall cause the partition of such lands to be made in conformity to the provisions of this Act. The portion of the common land falling by such partition to the shares of the several co-sharers shall be added to the lands held by them in severalty, and the several estates thus formed shall be assessed and declared separate estates.

XXXII. The Collector may refuse to declare any lands held in severalty and not liable to re-distribution according to special village custom a separate mahal, if the lands be so intermixed with other properties as to render the formation of a compact estate impossible, and if the parties affected by the partition decline to permit of the transfers necessary for curing such defect.

XXXIII. Where there are no lands held in common, lands in severalty may be declared a separate estate.

XXXIV. If any sharer, after the issue of the proclamation mentioned in Section XXVII of this Act, shall fail to attend the Officer appointed to make the partition during the time the partition is being made, no objection taken by such sharer to the partition, shall be heard, unless such sharer can show that his absence was not wilful, or unless for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear just and proper to allow him to be heard against the partition.

XXXV. If, at any time after an order shall have been passed for making a partition, it shall appear, either from the report of the Officer appointed to make the partition, or from any other information, that the parties are not desirous that the partition should proceed, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to stop the partition, and to strike the case off the file, recovering from the sharers all costs and expenses incurred up to that time.

XXXVI. It shall be the duty of the Officer appointed to make the partition, so far as circumstances will admit, to take care that the estates into which the estate is divided shall consist of contiguous mahals or villages. Provided that if the estate ordered to be divided shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages to admit of one or more entire village or villages being included in each estate, the partition of the village or villages of which the estate shall consist shall be made so as to order each estate as compact as possible.

XXXVII. The public revenue shall be assessed on each estate into which the property shall be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules contained in any law for the time being in force.

XXXVIII. In selecting the villages or lands to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads, railways, navigable rivers, or canals, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of cultivable and uncultivable waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks and wells, the state of the embankments and water-courses, and any other local circumstances affecting the present or likely to influence the future value of the lands, shall be duly considered, and the villages or lands to be included in each estate shall XXXIX. Where there are no lands held in common, lands in severalty may be declared a separate estate. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector to cause any transfer of lands agreed to, or directed by his order under this and the foregoing Section, to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

XL. If any sharer, after the issue of the proclamation mentioned in Section XXVII of this Act, shall fail to attend the Officer appointed to make the partition during the time the partition is being made, no objection taken by such sharer to the partition, shall be heard, unless such sharer can show that his absence was not wilful, or unless for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear just and proper to allow him to be heard against the partition.

XLI. If, at any time after an order shall have been passed for making a partition, it shall appear, either from the report of the Officer appointed to make the partition, or from any other information, that the parties are not desirous that the partition should proceed, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to stop the partition, and to strike the case off the file, recovering from the sharers all costs and expenses incurred up to that time.

XLII. It shall be the duty of the Officer appointed to make the partition, so far as circumstances will admit, to take care that the estates into which the estate is divided shall consist of contiguous mahals or villages. Provided that if the estate ordered to be divided shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages to admit of one or more entire village or villages being included in each estate, the partition of the village or villages of which the estate shall consist shall be made so as to order each estate as compact as possible.

XLIII. The public revenue shall be assessed on each estate into which the property shall be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules contained in any law for the time being in force.

XLIV. In selecting the villages or lands to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads, railways, navigable rivers, or canals, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of cultivable and uncultivable waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks and wells, the state of the embankments and water-courses, and any other local circumstances affecting the present or likely to influence the future value of the lands, shall be duly considered, and the villages or lands to be included in each estate shall

XLV. Where there are no lands held in common, lands in severalty may be declared a separate estate. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector to cause any transfer of lands agreed to, or directed by his order under this and the foregoing Section, to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

XLVI. If any sharer, after the issue of the proclamation mentioned in Section XXVII of this Act, shall fail to attend the Officer appointed to make the partition during the time the partition is being made, no objection taken by such sharer to the partition, shall be heard, unless such sharer can show that his absence was not wilful, or unless for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear just and proper to allow him to be heard against the partition.

XLVII. If, at any time after an order shall have been passed for making a partition, it shall appear, either from the report of the Officer appointed to make the partition, or from any other information, that the parties are not desirous that the partition should proceed, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to stop the partition, and to strike the case off the file, recovering from the sharers all costs and expenses incurred up to that time.

XLVIII. It shall be the duty of the Officer appointed to make the partition, so far as circumstances will admit, to take care that the estates into which the estate is divided shall consist of contiguous mahals or villages. Provided that if the estate ordered to be divided shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages to admit of one or more entire village or villages being included in each estate, the partition of the village or villages of which the estate shall consist shall be made so as to order each estate as compact as possible.

XLIX. The public revenue shall be assessed on each estate into which the property shall be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules contained in any law for the time being in force.

L. In selecting the villages or lands to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads, railways, navigable rivers, or canals, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of cultivable and uncultivable waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks and wells, the state of the embankments and water-courses, and any other local circumstances affecting the present or likely to influence the future value of the lands, shall be duly considered, and the villages or lands to be included in each estate shall be fairly and impartially selected. So far as may be practicable and consistent with compactness of partition, lands held in severalty shall be left in the possession of the parties holding the same.

XXXIX. If a dwelling-house belonging to one sharer shall be situate on any land or in any village which it may be necessary to include in the share of another sharer, the proprietor of such house shall be at liberty to retain it, with the offices, buildings, and grounds immediately attached thereto, upon agreeing to pay to the proprietor of the land or village in which the same is situate an equitable rent for the ground. The limits of the ground and the rent to be paid for it shall be fixed by the Officer making the partition and shall be stated in the paper of partition.

XL. Tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments shall be considered as attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made. In cases in which, from the extent, situation, or construction of such works, it shall be found necessary to continue them the joint property of the proprietors of two or more of the estates into which the estate may be divided, the paper of partition shall specify, as far as circumstances may admit, the extent to which the proprietors of each of such estates may make use of the same and of the proportion of the charges for repairs to be borne by them respectively.

Rule as to tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments. Rule as to places of worship. Places of worship which shall have been held in common previous to the partition of an estate shall continue to be so held, unless the parties shall otherwise agree amongst themselves, in which case they shall state in writing the agreement into which they have entered, and the Officer making the partition shall enter a note of the agreement in the paper of partition.

XLII. The Officer appointed to make the partition of an estate, shall exercise in such estate all the powers described in Act X of 1859 (to amend the law relating to the recovery of Raz in the Presidency of Bengal) and determine all suits and differences triable under that law between landlord and tenant; and any cases relating to the estate which may be pending before any Collector or Deputy Collector during the time the partition is in progress may be transferred to such Officer for disposal.

XLIII. When the Officer appointed to make the partition shall have completed the partition and allotted the public Revenue on each of the estates into which it is proposed that the estate shall be divided, he shall prepare and submit to the Collector a paper of partition showing how he proposes to divide the estate and to apportion the public revenue. This paper shall specify the names of the Mehals or villages included in each separate estate, the gross produce of each Mehal and village for the three years immediately preceding the year in which the partition is ordered to be made, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are allotted, and the proportion of the public revenue proposed to be assessed on each of such estates, with any remarks regarding the mode observed in selecting the lands included in

The Officer

XLIV. The Collector shall take into consideration the partition proposed by the Officer appointed to make the partition, and, after calling Report to be submitted by Collector to the Commissioner. for any further information which he shall deem necessary and disposing of any objections which shall be taken to the partition and allotment of public revenue as proposed by such Officer, he shall submit a report to the Commissioner together with such of the papers of the case as shall appear to him essential. He shall also forward a list of the papers not sent. The Collector shall record his opinion whether the proposed partition should be confirmed or modified, and in the latter case he shall state the nature of the modification which in his opinion should be made.

XLV. The Commissioner shall either uphold the partition proposed by the Collector or modify the same. Confirmation or modification of partition by Commissioner subject to appeal to the Board of Revenue. The decision of the Commissioner shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court, but shall be subject to appeal to the Board of Revenue. The Commissioner, before coming to a decision, may call for any additional papers, or direct any further inquiry that he shall consider necessary.

XLVI. On the receipt of the order of the Commissioner, or, if an appeal be preferred to the Board of Revenue, then of the order passed on the appeal, the Collector shall cause the same to be published in his Office and in some conspicuous place in each of the estates separately constituted by such order. The Collector shall at the same time specify the date from which each of the estates shall be held to be a separate estate, and shall enter the several estates into which the estate has been divided in the Register of Estates paying revenue to Government. The Collector shall give the several proprietors possession of the estates allotted to them, and, if necessary, may avail himself of the assistance of the Magistrate in giving possession.

XLVII. In order to prevent collusion or error in the distribution of the public revenue assessed upon an estate which may be ordered to be divided into two or more distinct estates, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Government within twelve years from and after the date of confirmation of the partition, that the public revenue was fraudulently or erroneously apportioned at the time of the partition, the Government shall have power to order a new allotment of the public revenue upon the several estates into which such estate may have been divided conformably to the principles prescribed in this Act, on an estimate of the gross produce of each estate at the time of the partition, to be made agreeably to the best evidence and information which may be procurable respecting the same. Such order shall not be liable to be contested in the Civil Court. The parties whose estates may be declared to have been under-assessed shall be required to pay to the proprietors of the estates which shall have been over-assessed the sum in which they shall be found to have been over-assessed, and in default of payment the amount shall be leviable by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

If, during the time an estate is under attachment with a view to the partition of the same, any party shall neglect or omit to claim by a suit any right or title he may then have to the ownership or occupancy at a fixed rent of any land situated in such estate or any other interest therein, such neglect or omission shall be a valid plea in bar of any suit relating to such right, title, or interest, unless the party can satisfy the Court that there was good and sufficient reason for his neglect or omission to institute the suit at or before such time. Provided that this Section shall not bar any action for arrears of rent or the enhancement or alteration of rent.

XLIX. Whenever any Court of Civil Judicature shall pass a decree awarding to any person the proprietary right in a portion of an estate paying revenue to Government, whether the portion so awarded shall consist of a fractional share in the whole or a part of the estate, or of specific lands, the decree-holder may apply to the Collector for a partition of the estate; and on the receipt of such application, the Collector shall proceed thereupon under the provisions of this Act, which are hereby declared applicable to such applications.

L. If two or more estates, which may have originally formed portions of the same estate, shall come into the possession of one person, such person shall be entitled to have such estates united and to hold them as a single estate; or if two or more persons shall have separate possession of their respective shares of an estate which was originally held as a joint undivided estate, such persons may apply to have their shares united and to hold them as one estate.

LI. The applications for the union of the estates or of the shares of the estate, as the case may be, shall be made in writing to the Collector of the District in which the estates or shares of the estate are situate, and the Collector (provided he see no objection) shall comply with the application and cause the necessary entries to be made in the records of his Office, reporting the case to the superior Revenue Authorities.

LII. The provisions of this Act, so far as they relate to the completion and confirmation or to the staying or quashing of the partition of an estate, may be applied at the discretion of the Collector in all cases of the partition of estates pending at the time of the passing of this Act.

LIII. The provisions of this Act may, in so far as the same are applicable, be applied by order of the local Government to the partition of any estate held free from the payment of Government revenue.

LIV. In the performance of his duties under this Act, the Collector shall be subject to the general direction and control of the Commissioner of the Division and the Board of Revenue.

LV. All orders passed by a Collector under this Act, unless otherwise provided, not being orders or decisions within the meaning of Section X, shall be open to revision by the superior Revenue Authorities.

LVI. The powers vested in a Collector by this Act may be exercised by a Deputy Collector or other Officer vested with the full powers of a Collector, subject to the control of the Collector of the District.

LVII. In carrying out the provisions of this Act the Collector shall exercise the powers described in Regulation II. 1810, Regulation VII. 1822, and Regulations IX and XIV. 1825. Any Officer appointed to make a partition under this Act may also exercise the powers described in the foregoing Regulations, so far as the same may be applicable.

LVIII. If, in any case in which a Collector or other Officer shall exercise jurisdiction under this Act, any person is guilty of the offence of giving or fabricating false evidence or of forgery as defined in the Indian Penal Code or of abetting any of those offences, such Collector or other Officer shall have the same powers in respect of such offence and of the person charged with committing the same as are vested by the Code of Criminal Procedure in a Civil Court when any such offence is committed before or against such Court, or when a document charged to be a forgery is given in evidence in any proceedings in such Court.

LIX. In the execution of the duties vested in the Board of Revenue by this Act, the Board shall be guided by such orders or instructions as they may from time to time receive from the local Government, to whom they shall apply in all cases which shall appear to the Board not to have been provided for by the existing law.

LX. Unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number, and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

LXI. This Act shall extend only to such parts of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal as are subject to the general Regulations of that Presidency; but the Act may be extended by order of the local Government, either wholly or in part, to any Non-Regulation Province under such Government.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The present law under which the partition of estates, held in joint tenancy, is made by the Revenue Officers of Government in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, has been found defective in respect to a very numerous class of estates in the North-Western Provinces of that Presidency, that is to say, estates the property of two or more persons the lands comprised in which are held partly in severalty and partly in common.

• Vide Section 30 Regulation XIX. 1814 of the Bengal Code. The wording of the present law* precludes the application of its provisions to estates of this description, and even the lands in such estates which are held in common are considered not to be divisible under it.

But a more serious objection to the existing law is to be found in the extremely dilatory character of the procedure which it lays down for the partition of a joint undivided estate. The nature of this procedure is such that it admits of constant impediments being thrown in the way of a partition by any person who has an object or an interest in obstructing or retarding the partition, and the consequence is, in the great majority of cases, almost intolerable delay.

The objects chiefly aimed at in the present Bill, are the removal of the defect in the present law, already noticed, and the introduction of a more simple and summary procedure which shall admit of the partition of an estate held in common tenancy being ordinarily effected within a comparatively short period, instead of being, as is not unfrequently the case at present, the work of several years if not of a long life.

It is a question whether the partition of very small estates should be allowed, the objection to the partition of such estates being the difficulty experienced in collecting the Revenue of Government from a number of small properties. But a Regulation was passed upwards of half a century ago (Regulation V. 1810) which seems to have recognised the right of every co-sharer in a joint undivided estate, whatever its extent, to have his share of the estate separated from the rest and to hold the same in severalty; and the right being conceded, it is only just and proper that the law should afford means for the enforcement of the right without difficulty, with reasonable expedition, and at a moderate cost. It is hoped that the present Bill will provide such means.

A table showing the arrangement and subject of the Sections of which the Bill consists is affixed to the Bill. To this table I beg to refer for the detailed provisions of the Bill.

It will be seen that Section LIII proposes to allow the provisions of the Bill to be applied, at the discretion of the local Government, to the partition of estates held free from the payment of Government revenue. The present law is restricted in its application to estates paying revenue to Government. The extension of the law, under certain circumstances, in the manner proposed, to rent-free estates is considered desirable in reference to some of the grants of estates or shares of estates which were made for services rendered during the eventful years of 1857 and 1858.

The Bill, as now framed, has been seen by the Members of the Sudder Board of Revenue at Allahabad, and is approved of by them. I believe I may say it has also the approval of the Honorable the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, at whose instance the Bill is brought in.

In preparing the Bill, I received great assistance from Baboo Prounno Coomar Tagore, the learned Clerk Assistant of the late Legislative Council.

The Bill, as it was originally drawn by me, was intended to apply to all the Regulation Districts of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal; but on hearing that a separate Legislative Council was to be constituted for the Lower Provinces of Bengal, I at once determined to restrict the application of the Bill to the North-Western Provinces of that Presidency, and the Bill is now framed accordingly. I believe I have sufficient ground for saying that the alterations which the Bill proposes to make in the existing law as regards the North-Western Provinces are, for the most part, equally required for the Lower Provinces of Bengal; but the introduction of a Bill for Bengal obviously falls more properly within the province of the local Legislature than of the Council of the Governor-General of India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THIS Bill was prepared and brought into the late Legislative Council at the request of the Government of India, for the purpose of extending to Rangoon, Moulmein, Tavoy, and Mergui the provisions of Municipal Law which now prevail in the Presidency Towns and the Straits' Settlement.

Some slight departures from the existing Law will be found in the Bill, but they are only such as the peculiar circumstances of the Towns, which it is now proposed to bring under the Municipal Acts, have called for.

Since this Bill was originally published for general information, petitions on the subject of it have been received from the inhabitants of the Towns to which it refers. These petitions will be laid before any Select Committee that may be nominated to report on this Bill.

A Bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes and to provide for the appointment of Assistant Judges of that Court.

WHEREAS it is expedient to increase the limit

Preamble. of the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes held under Act IX of 1850, and whereas it is necessary to provide for the appointment of Assistant Judges of the said Court; It is enacted as follows:—

I. The jurisdiction of the Court held or to be held in the Town of Calcutta under the said Act IX of 1850 shall extend to the recovery of any debt, damage, or demand not exceeding the sum of one thousand Rupees, and to all actions in respect thereof (except the several actions specified in the proviso in Section XXV of the same Act), and the several powers and provisions of the said Act and all rules, orders, and regulations which have been or may be made in pursuance of the said Act, shall extend to all debts, damages, and demands which may be sued for in the said Court not exceeding the sum of one thousand Rupees, and to all proceedings and judgments for the recovery of the same or otherwise in relation thereto respectively, as fully and effectually, to all intents and purposes, as the same respectively are now, or may be applicable to debts, damages, and demands, within the present jurisdiction of the said Court.

II. If both parties shall agree, by a memorandum signed by them or by their Attornies, that the said Court of Small Causes shall have power to try any action (not coming under the provision in Section XXV of Act IX of 1850) in which the sum sought to be recovered shall exceed the sum of one thousand Rupees, then and in such case the said Court shall have jurisdiction and power to try such action. Provided always that the said parties or their Attornies shall state in their said memorandum of agreement, that they know such cause of action to be above the said sum, and provided that such memorandum shall be filed with the Clerk of the said Court at the time of filing the plaint of the plaintiff.

III. In any cause of an amount to which Judges shall reserve case for opinion of Supreme Court when they have doubts themselves or when either of the parties require them to do so.

jurisdiction is given to the Calcutta Court of Small Causes by this Act, the Judges of the said Court shall reserve any question of law or equity or any question as to the admission or rejection of any evidence, as to which they shall entertain any doubts or which they shall be requested by either party to the suit to reserve for the opinion of the Supreme Court, and shall give judgment contingent upon the opinion of the said Supreme Court on a case which they shall thereupon be entitled to state to the said Court. If only two Judges sit together and shall differ in opinion, the question on which they differ shall be so reserved. Provided always that when judgment contingent upon the opinion of the Supreme Court is given against a defendant, such defendant shall forthwith give security, to be approved by the Clerk of the Court, for the costs of the reference to the Supreme Court, and for the amount of the judgment; provided nevertheless, that such security, so far as regards the amount of the judgment, shall not be required in any case where the Judge of the Court of Small Causes who tried the suit shall have ordered the defendant to pay the amount of such judgment into the hands of the Clerk of the said Court, and the same shall have been paid accordingly; and the said Supreme Court may either order a new trial on such terms as it thinks fit, or may order judgment to be entered for either party, as the case may be, and may make such order with respect to the costs of reserving the question and stating the same for their opinion, and otherwise arising thereout or connected therewith, as such Supreme Court may think proper. And all orders made by the Supreme Court under this Section shall be final.

IV. The powers and provisions of Act VII of 1847 to regulate distresses for small rents in Calcutta shall be extended to the recovery of all arrears of rent not exceeding one thousand Rupees, and the Judges of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes under Act IX of 1850 shall be empowered to exercise within their jurisdiction the extended powers of the said Act VII of 1847: and the said Act shall be construed as if, instead of Calcutta and the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court had been therein mentioned, and the Judges of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes under Act IX of 1850 instead of the Commissioners of the Court therein mentioned, and the amount of one thousand Rupees instead of one hundred Rupees, and the forms contained in the Schedule annexed to the said Act VII of 1847 shall be altered accordingly, and shall refer to Act IX of 1850 and to this Act instead of Act VII of 1847.

V. The powers and provisions of Section XCI of Act IX of 1850 are hereby extended so as to apply to the case of any person who shall hold or occupy any house, land, or tenement of which the value or the rent payable in respect thereof does not exceed the rate of one thousand Rupees, and the said Section XCI of Act IX of 1850 shall be read as if the words "five hundred" were omitted and the words "one thousand" substituted for them.

VI. If any action shall after the passing of this Act be commenced in the Supreme Court, for any cause other than those specified in Section C of Act IX of 1850, for which a summons might have been taken out from a Court held under the said Act IX of 1850 or under this Act and a verdict shall be found for the plaintiff for a sum less than one thousand Rupees if the said action is founded on contract, or less than 300 Rupees if it is founded on wrong, the plaintiff shall have judgment to recover such sum only, and no costs, and if a verdict shall not be found for the plaintiff, the defendant shall be entitled to his costs as between attorney and client, unless in either case the Judge who shall try the case shall certify on the back of the record that by reason of the difficulty, novelty, or general importance of the case, or of some erroneous course of decisions in like cases in the Court of Small Causes, the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

VII. If any person shall bring any suit in the Supreme Court in respect of any grievance committed by the Clerk, Bailiff, or Officer of any Court held at Calcutta under Act IX of 1850, or under this Act, or under color or pretence of the process of the said Court, and upon the trial of the action no greater damages shall be found for the Plaintiff than the sum of one thousand Rupees, no costs shall be awarded to the plaintiff in such action unless the Judge shall certify in Court, upon the back of the record, that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

VIII. The fees to be taken by Barristers at Law and Attorneys practising in the said Court, in cases brought within the jurisdiction given by this Act, shall be as follows:—an Attorney shall be entitled to have or recover a sum not exceeding fifty-one Rupees for his fees and costs, and in no case shall any fee exceeding eighty-five Rupees be allowed for employing a Barrister as Counsel in the cause. The expense of employing a Barrister or an Attorney, or both a Barrister and an Attorney, either by plaintiff or defendant, shall not be allowed as costs, unless by order of the Judge, and the Judges of the said Court shall from time to time determine in what cases such expenses shall be so allowed.

IX. There shall be payable in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes in every cause of an amount to which jurisdiction is given to the said Court by this Act, the fees set forth in the Schedule hereto annexed, besides the sum of two annas in the Rupee on the amount of the sum claimed, which fee shall be paid over to the same account as that to which the fees payable under Section XIX of Act IX of 1850 are paid over.

X. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may appoint as many persons as may be necessary to be Assistant Judges of the said Court of Small Causes. Every such Assistant Judge shall in causes for an amount not exceeding fifty Rupees instituted under the provisions of Act IX of 1850 have the same jurisdiction and powers and shall be subject to the same rules in all respects as Judges of the said Court appointed under Section VIII of that Act. But no Assistant Judge shall have any jurisdiction whatever in any cause instituted for the recovery of an amount exceeding fifty Rupees.

XI. Of the Judges appointed under Section VIII of the said Act IX of 1850, the one who is a Barrister at law or Advocate of one of the Supreme Courts of India or of the Court of Session of Scotland shall be styled the First Judge. The First Judge shall, subject to the approval of the Judges of the Supreme Court, make such arrangements as he shall think fit with regard to the distribution of the suits and of the general business of the Court among the various Judges thereof: and he may, subject to such approval, vary such arrangements from time to time. The First Judge shall forthwith report to the Judges of the Supreme Court, for their approval, any arrangement made by him under this Section, but such arrangement shall be of force until disapproved.

XII. In suits which have been heard by an Assistant Judge, all motions for a new trial or to alter or modify a judgment given or order made in the cause, and all new trials, shall be heard by the Assistant Judge who heard the same in the first instance,

XIII. In suits which have been heard by an Assistant Judge, all motions for a new trial or to alter or modify a judgment given or order made in the cause, and all new trials, shall be heard by the Assistant Judge who heard the same in the first instance, sitting together with the First Judge or such other one of the Judges appointed under Act IX of 1850 as the said First Judge shall empower to hear such motions and new trials.

XIII. This Act and the said Act IX of 1850 shall be read and construed as one Act, as if the several provisions in the said Act contained, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, were repealed and re-enacted in this Act.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

No. 136.

Fort William, the 13th March 1862.

The following Extract from a Report of a recent Survey of the Cocca Islands by Lieutenant Jackson, I. N., Commander of the Bengal Government Steam Vessel "Krishna," is published for general information:—

"On the morning of the 16th I hove to off Narecondam Island, with the peak bearing north (true) by Azimuth, and observed its longitude west of Fort Cornwallis Flagstaff, Penang, $6^{\circ} 02' 48''$, and its latitude, deduced from observation at noon by means of two patent log distances, $13^{\circ} 27' 00''$ north. The height above the level of the sea being 2,150 feet, and the variation 8° easterly.

From the above observations I find that Narecondam is placed about fourteen miles too far north in the Chart of the Bay of Bengal, published by Messrs. Allen and Company, in London, 5th September 1857. This is obviously an oversight, as the latitude here given agrees with that of former observers."

And all orders made by the Supreme Court under this Section shall be final.

IV. The powers and provisions of Act VII of 1847 to regulate distresses for small rents in Calcutta shall be extended to the recovery of all arrears of rent not exceeding one thousand Rupees, and the Judges of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes under Act IX of 1850 shall be empowered to exercise within their jurisdiction the extended powers of the said Act VII of 1847: and the said Act shall be construed as if, instead of Calcutta and the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court had been therein mentioned, and the Judges of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes under Act IX of 1850 instead of the Commissioners of the Court therein mentioned, and the amount of one thousand Rupees instead of one hundred Rupees, and the forms contained in the Schedule annexed to the said Act VII of 1847 shall be altered accordingly, and shall refer to Act IX of 1850 and to this Act instead of Act VII of 1847.

V. The powers and provisions of Section XCI of Act IX of 1850 are hereby extended so as to apply to the case of any person who shall hold or occupy any house, land, or tenement of which the value or the rent payable in respect thereof does not exceed the rate of one thousand Rupees, and the said Section XCI of Act IX of 1850 shall be read as if the words "five hundred" were omitted and the words "one thousand" substituted for them.

VI. If any action shall after the passing of this Act be commenced in the Supreme Court, for any cause other than those specified in Section C of Act IX of 1850, for which a summons might have been taken out from a Court held under the said Act IX of 1850 or under this Act and a verdict shall be found for the plaintiff for a sum less than one thousand Rupees if the said action is founded on contract, or less than 300 Rupees if it is founded on wrong, the plaintiff shall have judgment to recover such sum only, and no costs, and if a verdict shall not be found for the plaintiff, the defendant shall be entitled to his costs as between attorney and client, unless in either case the Judge who shall try the case shall certify on the back of the record that by reason of the difficulty, novelty, or general importance of the case, or of some erroneous course of decisions in like cases in the Court of Small Causes, the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

VII. If any person shall bring any suit in the Supreme Court in respect of any grievance committed by the Clerk, Bailiff, or Officer of any Court held at Calcutta under Act IX of 1850, or under this Act, or under color or pretence of the process of the said Court, and upon the trial of the action no greater damages shall be found for the Plaintiff than the sum of one thousand Rupees, no costs shall be awarded to the plaintiff in such action unless the Judge shall certify in Court, upon the back of the record, that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

VIII. The fees to be taken by Barristers at Law and Attorneys practising in the said Court, in cases brought within the jurisdiction given by this Act, shall be as follows:—an Attorney shall be entitled to have or recover a sum not exceeding fifty-one Rupees for his fees and costs, and in no case shall any fee exceeding eighty-five Rupees be allowed for employing a Barrister as Counsel in the cause. The expense of employing a Barrister, or an Attorney, or both a Barrister and an Attorney, either by plaintiff or defendant, shall not be allowed as costs, unless by order of the Judge and the Judges of the said Court shall from time to time determine in what cases such expenses shall be so allowed.

IX. There shall be payable in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes in every cause of an amount to which jurisdiction is given to the said Court by this Act, the fees set forth in the Schedule hereto annexed, besides the sum of two annas in the Rupee on the amount of the sum claimed, which fee shall be paid over to the same account as that to which the fees payable under Section XIX of Act IX of 1850 are paid over.

X. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may appoint as many persons as may be necessary to be Assistant Judges of the said Court of Small Causes. Every such Assistant Judge shall in causes for an amount not exceeding fifty Rupees instituted under the provisions of Act IX of 1850 have the same jurisdiction and powers and shall be subject to the same rules in all respects as Judges of the said Court appointed under Section VIII of that Act. But no Assistant Judge shall have any jurisdiction whatever in any cause instituted for the recovery of an amount exceeding fifty Rupees.

XI. Of the Judges appointed under Section VIII of the said Act IX of 1850, the one who is a Barrister at law or Advocate of one of the Supreme Courts of India or of the Court of Session of Scotland shall be styled the First Judge. The First Judge shall, subject to the approval of the Judges of the Supreme Court, make such arrangements as he shall think fit with regard to the distribution of the suits and of the general business of the Court among the various Judges thereof; and he may, subject to such approval, vary such arrangements from time to time. The First Judge shall forthwith report to the Judges of the Supreme Court, for their approval, any arrangement made by him under this Section, but such arrangement shall be of force until disapproved.

XII. In suits which have been heard by an Assistant Judge, all motions for a new trial or to alter or modify a judgment given or order made in the cause, and all new trials, shall be heard by the Assistant Judge who heard the same in the first instance, sitting together with the First Judge or such other one of the Judges appointed under Act IX of 1850 as the said First Judge shall empower to hear such motions and new trials.

XIII. This Act and the said Act IX of 1850 shall be read and construed as one Act, as if the several provisions in the said Act contained, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, were repealed and re-enacted in this Act.
